Universal Ballet president and director to lead company on tour of South Africa this month

By Park Min-young

More than 1,000 people gave a standing ovation in November last year at the finale of the Universal Ballet Company's "Shim Chung" at the Royal Opera House in Oman.

Two months ago in January, about 100 middle-aged women crowded a restaurant in Tokyo, Japan, to attend the fan meeting of UBC's young ballerinas Lee Seung-hyun and Kang Min-woo. The show "This is Modern 3," which took place a few days later at the city's Parthenon Tama Cultural Center, marked a success.

Later this month, UBC will be heading to South Africa, invited by The Mandela at Joburg Theatre in Johannesburg to showcase "Swan Lake."

Performing throughout the world, UBC is experiencing its busiest time ever.

"It is just like how the status of Korea changed from being a recipient of global support to an aid donor. Before, we used to be determined to introduce Korea's ballet to the world but we are now talking about sharing our ballet with the world. I believe Korean ballet can bring fresh influence to the world ballet scene," Julia Moon, president and director of Universal Ballet, told The Korea Herald.

UBC, one of the leading ballet companies in Korea, started to perform overseas in the 1990s, begun by Hong Kong Ballet Theatre's artistic director Bruce Stievel's strong recommendation that it go to America.

The New York City Center show of "Shim Chung" and "Swan Lake" in 1998 was the start.

"It is indescribable how nervous I was on the New York-bound plane. On the stage, I could feel my toes trembling inside my toe shoes. It was the first time we were showcasing in the historic theater, and I knew that if we were badly received we would never be able to perform there again," said Moon, who participated as the principal ballerina at the time.

Paul Sillard, an acclaimed U.S.-based agency that had flatly refused UBC before the tour, came back with open arms after seeing the 1998 New York show. The company has been organizing UBC's overseas performances ever since.

The chances did not end there. While UBC had to pay for all the costs for the overseas shows until 2004, for the "second season" of the company's world tour, which started last year, most theaters are inviting the company and covering the costs. Moon said the next step was to make some actual profit out of Julia Moon, president and director of Universal Ballet.

“That is my life, and I am grateful. Of course, things could have been better if he was still by my side. But love is only a momentary romance that requires a lifetime effort.”

the shows.

"I always tell my dancers that they have to keep up the great work their seniors did in 1998, so that their juniors can perform in even better conditions," said Moon, adding that while dancers back in the 1990s were strong mentally, dancers are now more confident and are in better physical condition.

Moon had been the principal ballerina of the company since its foundation in 1984, and has been leading the company since 1995. She both danced and directed the company for about five years until 2001, which she remembers as a period when she could not focus on either side. Now she is totally devoted to leadership.

"Dancers say that they get nervous whenever I enter the studio. Though I am not harsh on them, they know what I expect," said Moon.

As much as her unhindered career, her ex-ovo-kind marriage and family has always been under the spotlight. She was married in 1984 to a man who passed away before the wedding, the son of Unification Church leader Rev. Moon Sun-myung. She is raising two children she adopted from her brothers-in-law.

Moon shook her head when asked if the public's interest in her private life was burdensome. "That is my life, and I am grateful. Of course, things could have been better if he was still by my side. But love is only a momentary romance that requires a lifetime effort. It is not easy living alone, but there are also difficulties in living with someone. I am a romantic person, and I think it's not bad longing for someone through my entire life," she said. "And I had an outlet. Ballet was my outlet — the way I could express my feelings."

Putting all her efforts and emotions into ballet, she contributed to last year's ballet boom here. To continue the popularity, Moon said that the foremost priority is to present high-quality performances every time. Successful overseas performances would also increase the Korean public's interest in ballet, she said.

While adding that discovering new talent and successful star-marketing is also important, Moon expressed doubts over the government's plan to establish a ballet academy in 2013. Dancers are already pouring out, she said. What is more important now is to make sure that they all get a stable job and settle the issue of male dancers' military service.

In the U.S., there are huge ballet theaters like the New York City Ballet, and American Ballet Theater, but also many regional ballet companies. When dancers retire from major companies, they can work as ballet masters or directors at the regional companies.

In Korea, however, there are only four ballet companies that offer a monthly salary and four major insurances. Most of the smaller ballet companies receive manager support from the government, and even that has been cut for some. Art needs continuous support," said Moon. (claire@herald.ilm.com)

네팔 통일교 협회장, 임시정부 장관 됐다

에크낫 다칼 “평화 위해 최선”

네팔 통일교를 책임지고 있는 에크낫 다칼(38·사진) 협회장이 네팔 임시정부의 장관에 임명됐다.

에크낫 다칼 협회장은 지난 16일 수도 카트만두 대통령궁에서 랍 바란 야다브 네팔 대통령으로부터 빈곤 구제협력부 장관 임명장을 받았다.

네팔가정당 소속의 국회의원이기도 한 에크낫 다칼 협회장은 정당을 초월해 임명된 임시정부 25인 장관 중 1인으로, 오는 28일 새 헌법 선포로 새 정부가 출발하기 전까지 임시정부의 각료로 활동할 예정이다.

현재 네팔에는 25개 정당, 601명의 국회의원이 있으며, 에크낫 다칼 협회장은 치열한 경쟁을 뚫고 601명 국회의원 가운데 25명의 대표로 선정됐다.

2008년 창당된 네팔가정당은 가정을 바로 세움으로써 젊은이들을 올바르게 교육하고 평화와 안정을 꾀해 경제와 국가 발전까지 이루겠다는 공약으로 네팔 국민의 호응을 얻고 있다.

2008년 왕정에서 공화정으로 이행한 뒤 극심한 혼란을 겪었던 네팔은 28일 민주주의 헌법을 공포해 새 정부가 출범하며, 이때까지 임시정부가 새 정부 탄생을 위한 준비 등 국정운영을 맡게 된다. 에크낫 다칼 장관은 “네팔과 세계 평화를 위해 최선을 다하겠다”고 취임 소감을 밝혔다.

Married to the Moonies

ABOUT | SERIES & EPISODES

Married to the Moonies

With unprecedented access this revealing film takes viewers inside the little known world of the Unification Church, commonly known to outsiders as the Moonies.

Married to the Moonies follows three British youngsters as they travel to Korea to be blessed by their messiah, Reverend Moon, at one of the movement's controversial mass weddings.

The three undertake a condensed courtship - meeting and making plans for the future with a person they hardly know.

Twenty-two-year-old psychology student Elisa has decided to make her own wedding dress for the big day.

Twenty one year old Reamonn has been matched with a girl from Argentina he hasn't even met. The cameras follow him to the airport as he meets his future bride for the first time.

And 20-year-old Naomi from south London is matched with her future husband just days before the ceremony.

Does love last longer in arranged marriages?

Daniel Burke | May 23, 2012 | Comments (3)

Share

NEW YORK (RNS) Elke Thompson and Sam Quinn got engaged the old-fashioned way: their parents arranged it.

Quinn, 23, a quiet engineering student from Springfield, Mo., wanted to settle down, and asked his parents to play matchmaker. Through church friends, they found Thompson, an apple-cheeked 17-year-old from Manhattan, Kan.

"We spent one day together, and then his dad said, 'Yes or no? We're leaving tonight with an answer,'" Thompson recalled with a giggle.
